Words of Latin origin in geography textbooks

Language: Croatian

Outcomes: pupils know what words used in geography lessons are of foreign origin, primarily Latin, they know their meaning and Croatian words (if they exist)

Age: 13 years

Teacher: Gordana Maršić

Activity: students look for words of Latin origin in their geography textbooks

Organization: pair work

Time: 45 minutes

Preparation: making 2 online memory games containing 2X12 pairs of Latin and Croatian words:

<https://matchthememory.com/latinizmiu-hrvatskom>

Materials needed: geography textbooks, notebooks, blackboard, chalk

Procedure:

a) (10')

- Asking pupils if they have noticed words of foreign origin used in subjects they are taught
- pupils name some words
- In which subject foreign words are often used?
Are there Latin words in geography?
Do you know any?

b) (20')

Pairs of pupils get geography textbooks and should find as many Latin words as possible (they are informed that there are lots of Greek words in the textbook, too, so they will make two lists: Latin, Greek).

Pupils make lists in their notebooks

c) (15')

Pupils write words on the blackboard and ask other pupils to explain the words (If they can, they get points, the winner is the pair with most points)
